Dan,

FYI – During my site visit last week I noticed they had put a rock pad inside the Area 1 fence near the main entrance office (see attached photos). I asked what this was for and was told it is covering the septic tank for the office building. The septic tank is regularly pumped (no drain field) so the pad allows access to the septic cleanouts. There may also be an old underground diesel storage tank in this location according to our Tanks files and evidenced by the old gas pump.
